----- X
THE GRAND JURY CHARGES:

On or about and between July 1975 and February 1976, both dates being approximate and inclusive, within the Eastern District of New York, the defendants SAVIERO DIGIOVANNI, STEPHEN KOPF, JOHN DOE, also known as "Danny", JOSEPH PALMINTERI, JUDD LUCAS, VICTOR SZWARZ, RICHARD ROE, also known as "Steve", BILLY MILLER, JAMES WALL, JAMES KORZENIEWSKI and MAREK JANUSZ together with Robert Kizniewski, named herein as co-conspirator but not as a defendant, and others known and unknown to the Grand Jury, did knowingly and intentionally combine, conspire, confederate and agree together to violate Section 841(a)(1) of Title 21, United States Code.

1. It was part of said conspiracy that the defendants would knowingly and intentionally manufacture, distribute and possess with intent to distribute substantial quantities of phencyclidine, a Schedule III controlled substance.

2. It was further a part of said conspiracy that the defendants would conceal the existence of the conspiracy and would take steps designed to prevent disclosure of their

1 Charge
2 THE COURT: Madam Forelady, ladies and 3 gentlemen of the Jury:

4 Now that you have heard the evidence and 5 the arguments it becomes my duty to give you the 6 instructions of the Court as to the law applicable 7 to this case.

8 It is your duty as jurors to follow the law 9 as stated in the instructions of the Court, and to 10 apply the rules of law so given to the facts as you 11 find them from the evidence in the case.

12 You are not to single out one instruction 13 along as stating the law, but must consider the 14 instructions as a whole.

15 Neither are you to be concerned with the 16 wisdom of any rule of law stated by the Court.
17 Regardless of any opinion you may have as to what 18 the law ought to be, it would be a violation of your 19 sworn duty to base a verdict upon any other view 20 of the law than that given in the instructions of 21 the Court; just as it would be a violation of 22 your sworn duty, as judges of the facts, to base 23 a verdict upon anything but the evidence in the 24 case.

25 Justice through trial by jury must always

2 depend upon the willingness of each individual juror
3 to seek the truth as to the facts from the same 4 evidence presented to all the jurors; and to 5 arrive at a verdict by applying the same rules of 6 law, as given in the instructions of the Court.

7           You have been chosen and sworn as jurors in 8 this case to try the issues of fact presented by 9 the allegations of the indictment and the denial made 10 by the "Not-Guilty" plea of the accused. You are 11 to perform this duty without biase or prejudice 12 as to any party.

13           The law does not permit jurors to be 14 governed by sumpathy, prejudice or bias.

15           Both the accused and the public expect that 16 you will carefully and impartially consider all the 17 evidence in the case, follow the law as stated by 18 the Court and reach a just verdict, regardless of 19 the consequences.

20           The attorneys, both for the Government and 21 the Defendant, have been permitted by the Court 22 and by the rules to make opening statements and 23 summations to you.

24           Under no circumstances are the statements 25 they have made by way of opening or by way of

Charge

opening or by way of summation to be taken as evidence.

However, the Court and the law does permit you to take the arguments that they have proferred before you and weigh those arguments. And if you agree with what they have said on either side of the case you may use those arguments in your deliberations and in discussing the case with each other, and try to convince one another as to what the final determination shall be with reference to the deliberations at hand.

If you feel that the arguments are not commensurate with the testimony and the proof in the case, you may disregard them. Them arguments are not evidence. You need not weigh them. However, there are times when the arguments of the attorneys will give you an insight as to something you may have missed, and you may discuss that portion of it if you so desire.

As I have already instructed you, the Court will be the judge of the law. You may recall that some motions were argued at side bar or that you were asked to leave the courtroom from time to time.

That was not for the purpose of keeping any

2 of the proof from you, but were matters of law that 3 were discussed between the attorneys and the Court 4 itself, and should not have come before you.

5 In any event, if you feel that you had 6 discovered by some stretch of your imagination 7 what this Court thinks as to either some of the 8 testimony or the case itself, you should remove that 9 from your mind because I tell you here and now I 10 have come to no conclusion in this case.

11 I have not indicated to you in any way what-12 soever what my feeling is with reference to the 13 facts in the case, or with reference to the guilt 14 or innocence of the defendants. That is your 15 province and your job. You should not try to weigh 16 what you believe the Court's impression may be.

17 You must understand that the lawyers who 18 appear before you are advocates. They are advocating 19 the best case they can for the parties they represent 20 and they have a right to exercise as much force-21 fulness as they desire in their questioning or 22 otherwise in presenting their case.

23 During my precharge I told you, among other 24 things, that the questions asked by the attorneys 25 are never to be considered as evidence, even though the question may contain a statement of evidence.

2 You are reminded that only the answer to the 3 question is evidence, if, of course, the question was 4 answered.

5 Of course you know by now that this case
6 has come before you by way of indictment presented 7 by a Grand Jury sitting in the Eastern District.
8 Remember, an indictment is merely an accusation, 9 merely a piece of paper. It is not evidence and 10 is not proof of anything.

11 The Indictment:

12 The indictment in this case reads as follows:

13 On or about and between July 1975 and 14 February 1976, both dates being approximate and 15 inclusive, within the Eastern District of New York, 16 the defenants Saviero Di Giovanni, Stephen Kopf,
17 John Doe, also known as "Danny", Joseph Palminteri, 18 Judd Lucas, Victor Szwarcz, Richard Roe, also known 19 as "Steve," Billy Miller, James Wall, James 20 Korzeniewski and Marek Janusz, together with Robert 21 Kuzniewski and herein as co-conspirator but not 22 as a defenant, and others known and unknown to the 23 Grand Jury, did knowingly and intentionally combine, 24 conspire, confederate and agree together to violate 25 Section 841(z)(1) of Title 21, United States Code.

1 "1.. It was part of said conspiracy that 2 the defendants would knowingly and intentionally
3 manufacture, distribute and possess with intent
4 to distribute substantial quantities of phency-
5 clidine, a Schedule III controlled substance.

7 "2. It was further a part of said conspiracy 8 that the defendants would conceal the existence 9 of the conspiracy and would take steps designed 10 to prevent disclosure of their activities. (Title 11 21, United States Code, Section 846.)"

12 Some of the defendants named in the indict-
13 ment have not been on trial here; some of them 14 are out of this trial for various reasons. The 15 reasons why the other defendants are not part of 16 this trial have no bearing whatsoever on the guilt 17 or innocence of either of the defendants who are on 18 trial.

19 You are not to speculate as to the reasons 20 for the absence from this trial of the other 21 defendants named in the indictment.

22 You are to consider only the guilt or inno-
23 cence of the defendants before you here.

24 The indictment in this case charges a
25 knowing and intentional conspiracy to violate Section

2 841(a)(1) of Title 21, United States Code. That 3 section provides:

4 (a) It shall be unlawful for any person 5 knowingly or intentionally:

6 (1) to manufacture, distribute, or dispense,
7 or possess with intent to manufacture, distribute,
8 or dispense a controlled substance.

9 The essential elements of the charge involved 10 in this case may be stated as follows: First, 11 there must have been a conspiracy - and I will discuss 12 conspiracy with you shortly.

13 Second, the purpose of the conspiracy must 14 have been knowingly or intentionally to manufacture, 15 distribute, or dispense with intent to manufacture, 16 distribute or dispense a controlled substance, in 17 this case phencyclidine, or "Angel Dust." Unless 18 you believe beyond a reasonable doubt that the 19 substance involved here was in fact phencyclidine, 20 you cannot find these defendants guilty.

21 Third, the defendants must have knowingly or 22 intentionally become members of the conspiracy.

23 Let me state to you here that the burden
24 is upon the prosecution to prove beyond a reasonable 25 doubt each and every essential element of the crime

Charge

charged. Failure to do so requires you to find the defendants not guilty. The burden never shifts to the defendants to prove their innocence. The law never imposes upon a defendant in a criminal case the burden or duty of calling any witnesses or producing any evidence.

2 Before explaining the concept of conspiracy 3 to you, I will define certain terms which are 4 essential to your deliberations.

5 First, as I already told you, the Government
6 must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the 7 defendants acted knowingly and intentionally. An 8 act is done "knowingly" if done voluntarily and 9 intentionally, and not because of mistake or 10 accident or other innocent reason.

11 Intent is a state of mind and can be proven 12 by circumstantial evidence. In determining whether 13 the defendants acted knowingly and intentionally, 14 you may consider all the attendant circumstances of 15 the case, including the defendants' conduct.

16 The mere association of the defendants with 17 each other, however, is not in and of itself 18 sufficient evidence of the knowing participation of 19 the individual defendants in the crime charged in 20 the indictment. There mere presence of the 21 defendants at the time and place alleged in the 22 indictment, without more, is not enough to convict.

23 What you must find is that each of these 24 defendants, voluntarily and intentionally, by some 25 act or acts on his part, participated in the commission of the crime charged.

10

Charge

750

2 The indictment also charges that as part 3 of the alleged conspiracy the defendants would 4 "manufacture," "distribute," and "possess with 5 intent to distribute," phencyclidine.

6 The term "manufacture" in this context has 7 the same meaning as in any other context; that 8 is, that the members of the conspiracy would make 9 the controlled substance.

10 The term "distribute" in this context means 11 to deliver a controlled substance to the possession 12 of another person, which in turn means the actual, 13 constructive, or attempted transfer of a controlled 14 substance.

15 The phrase "possess with intent to distribute" 16 involves two distinct terms - "possession" and 17 "intent."

18 Before you may find that as part of the 19 alleged conspiracy the defendants possessed
20 phencyclidine with intent to distribute it, you 21 must be convinced beyond a reasonable doubt that 22 they or some other member of the alleged conspiracy 23 (1) possessed phencyclidine; (2) that they or some 24 other member of the alleged conspiracy possessed 25 it with a specific intent to distribute it, as I have

Charge

2 already defined "distribute" for you; and (3) that
3 they or some other member of the alleged conspiracy
4 did so knowingly and intentionally, as I have 5 defined those terms for you.

6 The law recognizes two kinds of possession:
7 actual possession and constructive possession. A
8 person who knowingly has direct physical control 9 over a thing, at a given time, is then in actual 10 possession of it. A person who, although not in 11 actual possession, knowingly has both the power 12 and the intention, at a given time, to exercise 13 domination or control over a thing, either directly 14 or through another person or persons, is then in 15 constructive possession of it.

16 The law also recognizes that possession may 17 be sole or joint. If one person alone has 18 actual or constructive possession of a thing, 19 possession is sole.

20 If two or more persons share actual or construct-21 ive possession of a thing, possession is joint.

22 You may find that the element of possession 23 is present if you find beyond a reasonable doubt that 24 a defendant had actual or constructive possession, 25 either alone or jointly with others.

Charge

752

12 1 Charge
2 "Intent" as used in the phrase "possess
3 with intent to distribute," means "specific intent."

4 Specific intent means more than the general
5 intent to possess the drug.

6 To establish specific intent the Government
7 must prove beyond a reasonable doubt that the 8 defendants, at the time they possessed the drug,
9 did so intending to distribute it. Such intent 10 may be determined from all the facts and circumstances 11 surrounding the case, but unless this specific 12 intent has been proven beyond a reasonable doubt, the 13 Government has not carried its burden with respect 14 to the charge of possession with intent to distribute 15 phencyclidine.

16 This indictment charges a conspiracy to 17 violate the law. The concept of conspiracy is 18 complicated, so I direct you to listen very closely 19 to what I am about to say to you.

20 These defendants are charged with "conspiring" 21 to manufacture, distribute, or possess with intent to 22 manufacture or distribute, phencyclidine.

23 In order to convict you must be convinced 24 beyond a reasonable doubt that they knowingly and 25 intentionally entered into a conspiracy. It is not

13

Charge

1 sufficient that you find that they actually did 2 manufacture, distribute, or possess with intent to 3 distribute, the drug.

5 On the other hand, it is not necessary that 6 you find that these particular defendants did in 7 fact manufacture, distribute or possess with intent 8 to distribute, phencyclidine.

9 What you must find, in order to convict, is 10 that the defendants knowingly and intentionally 11 entered into an agreement to violate the law, 12 whether or not that agreement was ever carried out
13 by them. It is the conspiracy itself which consti-
14 tutes the crime, and I will not discuss "conspiracy" 15 with you.

16 A conspiracy is a combination of two or 17 more persons, by concerted action, to accomplish 18 some unlawful purpose, or to accomplish some lawful 19 purpose by unlawful means. So a conspiracy is a 20 kind of "partnership in criminal purposes," in which 21 each member becomes the agent of every other member.
22 The gist of the offense is a combination or 23 agreement to disobey, or to disregard, the law.

24 Mere similarity of conduct among various 25 persons, and the fact they may have associated with

1 each other, and may have assembled together and 2 discussed common aims and interests, does not 3 necessarily establish proof of the existence of 4 a conspiracy.

6 However, the evidence in the case need not 7 show that the members entered into any express 8 or formal agreement, or that they directly, by words
9 spoken or in writing, stated between themselves 10 what their object or purpose was to be, or the 11 details thereof, or the means by which the object 12 or purpose was to be accomplished.

13 What the evidence in the case must shown 14 beyond a reasonable doubt, in order to establish 15 proof that a conspiracy existed, is that the members 16 in some way or manner, or through some contrivance, 17 expressly or tacitly came to a mutual understanding 18 to try to accomplish a common and unlawful plan.

19 The evidence in the case must also establish 20 beyond a reasonable doubt that the alleged conspiracy 21 was knowingly formed, and that one or more of the 22 means or methods described in the indictment were 23 agreed upon to be used, in an effort to effect or 24 accomplish some object or purpose of the conspiracy, 25 as charged in the indictment; and that two or more

15

Charge

755

1 persons, including one or both of the accused, were 2 knowingly members of the conspiracy, as charged in 3 the indictment.

5 In determining whether there has been an 6 unlawful agreement, you may judge acts and conduct of 7 the alleged members of the conspiracy which are done 8 to carry out an apparent criminal purpose. The 9 adage, "Actions speak louder than words" is applicable 10 here.

2 Usually, the only evidence available is that 3 of disconnected acts on the part of the alleged 4 individual conspirators, which acts, however, when 5 taken together inconnection with each other and 6 with the reasonable inferences flowing therefrom, 7 show a conspiracy or agreement to secure a 8 particular result as satisfactorily and conclusively 9 as more direct proof.

10 If, upon such consideration of all the 11 evidence, direct or circumstantial, you find beyond 12 a reasonable doubt that the minds of the alleged 13 conspirators met in an understanding way and that 14 they agreed, as I have explained a conspiratorial 15 agreement to you, to work together in furtherance 16 of the unlawful schemes alleged in the indictment,
17 then proof of the existence of conspiracy is estab-18 lished.

19 One may become a member of a conspiracy 20 without full knowledge of all the details of the 21 conspiracy. On the other hand, a person who has 22 no knowledge of a conspiracy, but happens to act 23 in a way which furthers some object or purpose of 24 the conspiracy, does not thereby become a conspirator.

25 Before the Jury may find that a defendant,

17

Charge

757

1 or any other person, has become a member of a
2 conspiracy, the evidence in the case must show 3 beyond a reasonable doubt that the conspiracy was 4 knowingly formed, and that the defenant, or other 5 person who is claimed to have been a member, 6 wilfully participated in the unlawful plan, with 7 the intent to advance or further some objects or 8 purpose of the conspiracy.

10 To act or participate wilfully means to act 11 or participate voluntarily and intentionally, and 12 with specific intent to do something the law
13 forbids; that is to say, to act or participate 14 with the bad purpose, either to disobey or to 15 disregard the law.

16 So, if a defendant, or any other person, with 17 understanding of the unlawful character of a plan, 18 knowingly encourages, advises or assists, for the 19 purpose of furthering the undertaking or scheme, 20 he thereby becomes a wilful participant - a conspira-21 tor.

22 One who wilfully joins an existing 23 conspiracy is charged with the same responsibility 24 as if he had been one of the originators or 25 instigators of the conspiracy.

2 In determining whether a conspiracy existed,
3 the Jury should consider the actions and declara-4 tions of all of the alleged participants made in 5 furtherance of the common scheme.

6 However, in determining whether a
7 particular defendant was a member of the conspiracy, 8 the Jury should consider only his acts and 9 statements. He cannot be bound by the acts or 10 declarations of other participants until it is 11 established that a conspiracy existed, and that he 12 was one of its members.

13 Whenever it appears beyond a reasonable doubt, 14 however, that a conspiracy existed and that a 15 defendant was one of its members, then the statements
16 thereafter knowingly made and the acts thereafter 17 knowingly done by some other member of the 18 conspiracy, may be considered by you as evidence 19 against the defendant found to have been a member, 20 even though the statements and acts may have 21 occurred in the absence and without the knowledge 22 of that defendant, provided such statements and acts 23 were knowingly made or done during the continuation 24 of the conspiracy, and in furtherance of some object 25 or purpose of the conspiracy.

Charge

Any statements or acts of any conspirator, which are not made or done in furtherance of the conspiracy, or which are made or done before its existence or after its termination may not be considered as evidence against anyone other than the maker or actor.

The guilt of a conspirator is not governed by the extent or duration of his participation in the conspiracy, or whether he had knowledge of all of its operations.

Even if one joined the conspiracy after it was formed, and was engaged in it to a degree more limited than that of other co-conspirators, he is equally culpable, so long as he was a co-conspirator.

Each member of a conspiracy may perform separate and distinct acts at different times and different places. Thus, some conspirators may play major roles, while others play minor parts.

In other words, it is not required that a person be a member of the conspiracy from its very start - he may join it at any point during its progress, and be held responsible for all that has been done before he joined, and all that may be done thereafter during its existence, and may be charged with the same responsibility as if he had been one of the originators or instigators of the conspiracy.

As to each of the defendants, four essential elements are required to be proved in order to establish the offense of conspiracy charged in the indictment:

First: That the conspiracy described in the indictment was wilfully formed, and was existing at or about the time alleged;

Second: That the accused wilfully became a member of the conspiracy;

Third: That one of the conspirators thereafter committed an overt act in furtherance of the conspiracy; and

Fourth: That such overt act was knowingly done in furtherance of some object or purpose of the conspiracy, as charged.

If you should find beyond a reasonable doubt from the evidence in the case that existence of the conspiracy charged in the indictment has been proved, and that during the existence of the conspiracy some overt act was knowingly done by one

1 of the members of the conspiracy in furtherance of 2 some object or purpose of the conspiracy, then proof
3 of the conspiracy offense charged is complete.

5 An "overt act" is any act knowingly committed 6 by one of the defendants or co-conspirators in an 7 effort to effect or accomplish some object or purpose 8 of the conspiracy.

9 The over act need not be criminal in nature, 10 if considered separately and apart from the con-
11 spiracy. It may be as innocent as the act of a man 12 walking across the street, or driving an automobile, 13 or using a telephone.

14 It must, however, be an act which follows and 15 tends toward accomplishment of the plan or scheme, 16 and must be knowingly done in furtherance of some 17 object or purpose of the conspiracy charged in the 18 indictment.

Charge

762

1 In your consideration of the evidence in the 2 case as to the offense of conspiracy charged, you
3 should first determine whether or not the conspiracy 4 existed, as alleged in the indictment.

6 If you conclude that the conspiracy did 7 exist, you should next determine whether or not the 8 accused wilfully became members of the conspiracy.

9 If you are not convinced beyond a reasonable 10 doubt from the evidence in the case that the con-11 spiracy alleged in the indictment was wilfully formed, 12 and that one or both of the defendants wilfully 13 became members of the conspiracy either at its in-14 ception or afterwards, and that thereafter one or 15 more of the conspirators knowingly committed one or 16 more of the overt acts charged in furtherance of some 17 object or purpose of the conspiracy, then you must 18 acquit each defendant as to whom you have such a
19 reasonable doubt.

20 If, however, you are convinced of these 21 factors beyond a reasonable doubt, then you may convict 22 each defendant as to whom you have no reasonable 23 doubt.

24 Let me admonish you here that it is your duty
25 to give separate, personal consideration to the case

Charge

1 of each individual defendant.

3 When you do so, you should analyze all of 4 the evidence with respect to each defendant separately.
5 You may find both defendants guilty, both 6 defendants not guilty, or one defendant guilty and 7 the other not guilty.

8 The fact that you may find one of the 9 defendants guilty should not influence your verdict 10 as to the other defendant. You must determine the 11 case of each defendant solely upon that evidence 12 which you find applicable to him.

13 There are two types of evidence from which 14 you may find the truth as to the facts of a case - 15 direct and circumstantial evidence.

16 Direct evidence is the testimony of one who 17 asserts actual knowledge of a fact, such as an 18 eyewitness; circumstantial evidence is proof of a 19 chain of facts and circumstances indicating the 20 guilt or innocence of a defendant.

21 The law makes no distinction between the 22 weight to be given to either direct or circumstantial
23 evidence. Nor is a greater degree of certainty required 24 of circumstantial evidence than of direct evidence.
25 You should weigh all the evidence in the case.

1 After weighing all the evidence, if you are 2 not convinced of the guilt of the defendants beyond 3 a reasonable doubt, you must find them not guilty.

4 A defendant is presumed innocent of the 5 crime. Thus the defendant, although accused, begins 6 the trial with a clean slate and with no evidence 7 against him, and the law permits nothing but legal 8 evidence to be presented before a jury to be considered 9 in support of any charge against the accused. So 10 the presumption of innocence alone is sufficient to 11 acquit a defendant unless you, the jury, are 12 satisfied beyond a reasonable doubt of the defendant's 13 guilt after careful and impartial consideration of 14 all the evidence in the case.

15 It is not required that the Government prove 16 guilt beyond all possible doubt. The test is one of 17 reasonable doubt, and reasonable doubt is doubt 18 based upon reason and common sense, the kind of 19 doubt that would make a reasonable person hesitate 20 to act.

21 Proof beyond a reasonable doubt must,
22 therefore, be proof of such a convincing character 23 that you would be willing to rely and act upon it 24 unhesitatingly in the most important of your own 25

25

Charge

2 affairs.

3           You, the Jury, will remember that a 4 defendant is never to be convicted on mere suspicion 5 or conjecture. The burden is always upon the 6 prosecution to prove guilt beyond a reasonable 7 doubt.

8           This burden never shifts to a defendant.
9 The law never imposes upon a defendant in a criminal 10 case the burden of duty of calling any witnesses 11 or producing any evidence.

12           If the Jury views the evidence in the case 13 as reasonably permitting either of two conclusions, 14 one of innocence, the other of guilt, you, the 15 Jury, must, of course, adopt the conclusion of 16 innocence.

17           A reasonable doubt may arise not only from 18 the evidence produced, but also from a lack of 19 evidence. Since the burden is upon the prosecution 20 to prove the accused guilty beyond a reasonable 21 doubt of every essential element of the crime 22 charged, a defendant has the right to rely upon 23 failure of the prosecution to establish such proof.

24           You, the Jury, may make common sense inferences 25 from the proven facts.

1 It is not necessary that all inferences drawn 2 from the facts in evidence be consistent only with 3 guilt and inconsistent with every reasonable hypo-
4 thesis of innocence.

6 The test is one of reasonable doubt, and 7 should be based upon all the evidence, the testimony 8 of the witnesses, the documents offered into 9 evidence and the reasonable inferences which can 10 be drawn from the proven facts.

11 An inference is a deduction or conclusion
12 which reason and common sense lead the Jury to draw 13 from the facts which have been proved.

14 You are to consider only the evidence in the 15 case. But in your consideration of the evidence you 16 are not limited to the bald statements of the 17 witnesses.

18 On the contrary, you are permitted to draw, 19 from the facts which you find have been proved, such 20 reasonable inferences as seem justified in the light 21 of your own experience.

1                   You as jurors are the sole judges of the credi-
2                   bility of the witnesses and the weight that their testimony 3                   deserves, and it goes without saying that you should 4                   scrutinize all the testimony given, the circumstances 5                   under which each witness has testified, and every 6                   matter in evidence which tends to show whether a wit-
7                   ness is worthy of belief. Consider each witness' 8                   intelligence, motive and state of mind, and his demeanor 9                   and manner while on the stand. Consider the witness' 10                  ability to observe the matters as to which he has 11                  testified, and whether he impresses you as having an 12                  accurate recollection of these matters. Consider also 13                  any relation each witness may bear to either side of 14                  the case, the manner in which each witness might be 15                  affected by the verdict, and the extent to which, if 16                  at all, each witness is either supported or contra-17                  dicted by other evidence in the case.

18                         Inconsistencies, or discrepancies in the testi-19                         mony of a witness or between the testimony of different 20                         witnesses, may or may not cause the jury to discredit 21                         such testimony. Two or more persons witnessing an 22                         incident or a transaction may see or hear it differently 23                         and innocent misrecollection like a failure of recol-24                         lection, is not an uncommon experience.
25

Charge of the Court

768

2 In weighing the effect of a discrepancy, always 3 consider whether it pertains to a matter of importance 4 or an unimportant detail, and whether the discrepancy 5 results from innocent error or intentional falsehood.

6 After making your own judgment, you will give the 7 testimony of each witness such credibility, if any, as 8 you may think it deserves.

9 If you find any witness lied as to any material 10 fact in the case, or willfully testified falsely, then 11 the law gives you certain privileges. One of those 12 privileges is that you have the right to disregard the 13 entire testimony of that witness. If you find, how-14 ever, that you can sift through that testimony and deter-15 mine which of the testimony is true and which is false, 16 then the law allows you to take the portions which 17 were true and weigh it and disregard those portions 18 which were false. That again is within your peroga-19 tive.

20 The weight of the evidence is not necessarily 21 determined by the number of witnesses testifying on 22 either side. You should consider all the facts and 23 circumstances in evidence to determine which of the 24 witnesses are worthy of greater credence. You may 25 find the testimony of a smaller number of witnesses on one side is more credible than the testimony of a greater number of witnesses on the other side.

You are not obliged to accept testimony, even though the testimony is uncontradicted, and the witness is not impeached. You may decide because of the witness' bearing and demeanor, or because of the inherent improbability of his testimony, or for other reasons sufficient to you, that such testimony is not worthy of belief. The Government is not required to prove the essential elements of the offense as defined in these instructions by any particular number of witnesses. The testimony of a single witness may be sufficient to convince you beyond a reasonable doubt of the existence of an essential element of the offense charged, if you believe beyond a reasonable doubt that the witness is telling the truth.

The testimony of a witness may be discredited, or impeached, by showing that he previously made statements which are inconsistent with his present testimony. The earlier contradictory statements are admissible only to impeach the credibility of the witness and not to establish the truth of those statements. It is the province of the jury to determine the credibility, if any, to be given the testimony of a witness who has

2 been impeached.

3 If a witness is shown knowingly to have testified 4 falsely concerning any material matter, you have a right 5 to distrust such witness' testimony and other particulars;
6 and you may reject all the testimony of that witness 7 or give it such credibility as you may think it deserves.

8 An act or omission is knowingly done if it is 9 done voluntarily and intentionally, and not because of 10 mistake or accident or other innocent reason.

11 Some of the witnesses who testified before you 12 here were admitted participats in the crime with which 13 these defendants are charged. Such a person, however, 14 does not become incompetent as a witness simply because 15 of his participation in the crime charged. The mere 16 fact that a witness may have participated in the crime 17 charged does not mean that he cannot tell the truth.
18 It only means that you are to examine his testimony with 19 great care, and his having done so, you believe it to 20 be the truth, then you are to give it the same credence 21 as the testimony of other witnesses. The testimony of 22 such a witness alone, if believed by you, may be of 23 sufficient weight to sustain a verdict of guilty even 24 if uncorroborated or unsupported by other testimony.
25 Keep in mind, however, that you must receive such

Charge of the Court

771

1 testimony with caution and weigh it with great care 2 before you accept it. You should not convict on the 3 basis of the unsupported testimony of a participant in 4 the crime unless you believe such testimony beyond a
5 reasonable doubt.

7 Certain witnesses who have testified before you 8 here have received consideration from the Government in 9 exchange for their testimony. Such testimony must be 10 examined and weighed by you with greater care than the 11 testimony of ordinary witnesses. Again, this does not 12 mean that such persons cannot tell the truth, but you 13 must determine whether such testimony has been affected 14 by interest, or by prejudice against the defendant. If 15 after such consideration you find such testimony to be 16 truthful, you may gauge it whatever weight you believe 17 it deserves.

18 The law does not require the prosecution to call 19 as witnesses all persons who may have been present at 20 any time or place involved in the case, or who may 21 appear to have some knowledge of the matters in issue at 22 this trial. Nor does the law require the prosecution to 23 produce as exhibits all papers and things mentioned in 24 the evidence.

25 However, in judging the credibility of the witnesses

Charge of the Court

who have testified, and in considering the weight and effect of all evidence that has been produced, the jury may consider the prosecution's failure to call other witnesses, or to produce other evidence shown by the evidence in the case to be in existence and available.

Where a witness is available to both parties, no unfavorable inference may be drawn as to either party for the failure to call that witness, but you the jury must keep in mind that the law never imposes upon a defendant in a criminal case the burden or duty of calling any witness or producing any evidence, even though such witness or evidence were available to them.

When a defendant in a case of this kind takes the stand, which he has a perfect right to do, he is subjected to all the obligations of witnesses, and his testimony is to be treated like the testimony of any other witness, that is to say, it will be for you to say, remembering the substance of his testimony, the manner in which he gave it, his cross-examination, and everything else in the case, whether or not he told the truth. Then again, it is for you to remember, and you have a perfect right to do so, to very grave interest the defendant has in the case. As he places himself as a witness, he stands like any other witness.

Charge of the Court

There is nothing peculiarly different in the way a jury should consider the evidence in a criminal case from that which all reasonable persons treat any question depending upon evidence presented to them. You are expected to use your good sense. You are not to compromise your positions. Consider the evidence in the case for only those purposes for which it has been admitted, and give it a reasonable and fair construction in the light of your common knowledge of the natural tendencies and inclinations of human beings.

If an accused be proved guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, say so. If not so proved guilty, say so.

Keep constantly in mind that it would be a violation of your sworn duty to base a verdict of guilt upon anything other than the evidence in the case, and remember as well that the law never imposes upon a defendant in a criminal case the burden or duty of calling any witness or producing any evidence.

In making the factual determination on which your verdict will be based, you may consider only the exhibits which have been admitted in evidence, and the testimony of the witnesses as you have heard it in this

Charge of the Court

774

8 courtroom.

3 The punishment provided by law for the offense 4 charged in the indictment is a matter exclusively within 5 the province of the Court and should never be considered 6 by the jury in any way in arriving at an impartial 7 verdict as to the guilt or innocence of the accused.

8 If any reference by the Court or by counsel to 9 matters of evidence does not coincide with your own 10 recollection, it is your recollection which should 11 control during your deliberations.

12 Now, in this type of case, there must be a 13 unanimous verdict. That means all 12 of you must agree 14 and it goes without saying that it becomes incumbent 15 upon you to listen to one another and to argue out 16 the points among yourselves in order to determine in 17 good conscience whether your fellow jurors' argument 18 is one commensurate with yours or whether you can in 19 good conscience agree with him. You have no right 20 to stubbornly and idly sit by and say, "I am not 21 talking to anyone. I am not going to discuss it," be-22 cause people with common sense and the ability to reason 23 must communicate their thoughts. So anything that 24 appears in the record and about which one of you may 25 not agree, talk it out amongst yourselves, and then if

2 you cannot agree as to what is in the record, you can 3 ask the Court to have that portion of the testimony 4 read back to you. You may do so by knocking on the 5 door and giving a note in writing to the marshal who 6 will then present it to the Court, and I will then 7 bring you into the courtroom for that purpose.

8 Madame Forelady, you will preside over the 9 deliberations and you will be the spokesman here in 10 the courtroom.

11 Now, the form of your verdict will be, ladies 12 and gentlemen, if you should find both defendants not 13 guilty, you will announce that "We the jury find the 14 defendants not guilty," keeping in mind that all 12 15 of you must agree on a verdict in order for that ver-
16 dict to be announced. It must be a unanimous verdict 17 among the 12 of you.

18 If you should find both defendants guilty, you 19 will announce that "We the jury find the defendants 20 guilty."

21 If you should find one guilty and one not guilty, 22 you would of course announce the alternative form to 23 the Court. For instance, you will say, "We find the 24 defendant A guilty and the defendant B not guilty." You 25 would use their names where I used the letters.

Charge of the Court

2 So actually there are three forms of verdict 3 that you can bring into this courtroom after you have 4 deliberated and come to a conclusion.

5 Now, Madame Forelady and ladies and gentlemen 6 of the jury: You have heard the complete charge on the 7 law to be applied to the facts. Is there any part of 8 the charge that you do not understand, about which you 9 might be confused or which you would like to have 10 repeated to you at this time before commencing your 11 deliberations? Of course, you shall have the right 12 to have the Court read back any part of the charge at 13 any time during your deliberations. I assume at this 14 time you have no confusion and you understood the 15 charge. That does not mean that if you discuss it 16 further in your deliberations, and you have a question, 17 you still have a right to come back into the courtroom 18 and have the Court read that portion which you wish to 19 have read back to you. That's the Court's charge.

20 MR. GALLAGHER: I would like a sidebar?

21 THE COURT: Swear in the marshal first.

22 (Marshal sworn.)

23 (The following transpired at the sidebar.)

24 MR. GALLAGHER: Your Honor, maybe I misheard 25 what you read. I am referring now to page 44. It is 2 any further with this questioning.

3 (The following took place at the side bar.)

4 MR. KLENOSKY: Your Honor, my purpose in 5 putting this type of question is to show they -- 6 the complete framework of the illegality of the--

7 THE COURT: It's already conceded. There's 8 nothing legal about this.

9 MR. KLENOSKY: Insofar as dealing--

10 THE COURT: It was illegal.

11 MR. KLENOSKY: There was nothing proper in 12 the--

13 THE COURT: I already told the jury the 14 whole scheme was illegal.

15 MR. KLENOSKY: It affects the credibility of 16 the--

17 THE COURT: How can it?

18 They already know it's illegal.

19 MR. KLENOSKY: Not quite. Even among them-
20 selves they have a--

21 THE COURT: I know. They had a code where 22 they were kidding each other along, and there's no
23 honor among thieves. Do you want me to tell them 24 that? I'm going to tell them they can take notice 25 of the fact the whole scheme was illegal. The only

2 question is was your man--did he have any part in 3 it? That's the case. That's it from here on.

4 All right. We are through. We have run 5 the gauntlet.

6 (End of side bar.)

7 THE COURT: All right. As far as this scheme 8 that they were involved in, there is no question that 9 the whole scheme was illegal. No question about it.
10 No one disputes it. I don't think anyone disputes it.

11 The question is whether these two gentlemen 12 sitting here had anything to do with it. That's the 13 question in the case.

14 MR. MARKS: With respect to the illegality of 15 the scheme, your Honor, perhaps we can get a stipu-
16 lation from counsel to that effect. The Government 17 will stipulate the scheme was illegal.

18 THE COURT: No question about it.

19 MR. KLENOSKY: No, I won't stipulate to that.

20 THE COURT: The question is whether they had 21 anything to do with this matter in any respect what-22 soever. If they didn't, then the jury knows what 23 it must do.

24 All right.

25 MR. MARKS: Will counsel stipulate that the

2 scheme was--

3 MR. KLENOSKY: On the basis of the--

4 THE COURT: All right, we don't need any. On 5 the face of it, it's illegal.

6 MR. GALLAGHER: I will be happy to stipulate 7 that this witness's partnership--

8 THE COURT: Was illegal.

9 MR. GALLAGHER: It was illegal, and his 10 activities were illegal. But in no way do I intend 11 to imply that my defendant had anything to do with it.

12 THE COURT: I just told the jury that.

13 MR. MARKS: Very good.

14 THE COURT: That's the question involved. If 15 they had nothing to do with it. If the defendants 16 had nothing to do with it, then you jurors 17 know exactly what you must do. Because, as I in-18 structed you--

19 MR. MARKS: Will you put your stipulation on 20 the record.

21 MR. KLENOSKY: Well, I am not prepared to 22 dictate a stipulation into the record at this time.

23 THE COURT: No. He just wants to know, do you 24 want to stipulate the scheme was illegal, without con-25 ceding your defendant had anything to do with it?

2 Q By the way, have you had a chance to speak
3 to Robert Kuzniewski?

4 A Yes, I have.

5 Q Have you discussed with him the synthesis
6 of PCP?

7 A Yes, sir, I have.

8 Q On the basis of those discussions, did you 9 form an opinion as to whether or not he knew how to 10 synthesize PCP?

11 A Yes.

12 MR. GALLAGHER: Objection.

13 THE COURT: I'll allow it as an expert.

14 A Yes, I did.

15 Q What is your opinion, sir?

16 A I felt that he could certainly synthesize
17 PCP, because he discussed with me the synthesis of certain 18 other analogues which are slightly changed or modifications 19 in the reactions which would, although the reaction would 20 go similarly, the end product would be slightly different 21 from the phencyclidine, and this shows that he had very 22 good working knowledge of the reactions; so that he wasn't 23 just following it from a cookbook. This is how I was 24 impressed with the method that he used or I said he had 25 used in various syntheses.

The answer should be yes or no.

A 47

Whether or not he can tell us about the conversation is another problem.

Q Who was that conversation with?

A Mark Janusez.

Q What did he say?

THE COURT: No.

MR. MARKS: We have a conspiracy already.

THE COURT: I understand that.

Proceed.

Q What did Mr. Janusez say to you?

MR. GALLAGHER: Objection.

THE COURT: I will allow it.

A That he would be responsible for giving Billy Miller and Jimmy Korzeniewski the angel dust.

Q Did he say how much?

A One pound.

Q Did there come a time when you had a conversation with Bob Kuzniewski about that one pound of angel dust?

A Yes.

MR. GALLAGHER: I object to anything after yes.

THE COURT: He asked him what the conversa-
